

Workshop on Law and Philosophy, Friday Dec 14 – Saturday Dec 15
Stanford University

Pre-read. Six papers. Six commentators. Free and open to all, space permitting.
Registration is required to get the papers.

Format for each session: 10-20min comments, 5-10 min response, then Q+A.

Commentators: aim for 5-10 min for recap of main argument, with then critical discussion.

Friday December 14

10:30-12: Christopher Lewis (Harvard, Society of Fellows)
with comments from Wendy Salkin (San Francisco State, Philosophy)
Chair: Laura Gillespie (Stanford, Ethics in Society)

2-3:30: Christopher Essert (Toronto, Law)
with comments from Nico Cornell (Michigan, Law)
Chair: Sabine Tsuruda (Queens, Law)

4-5:30: Zoe Johnson-King (NYU, Philosophy)
with comments from David Plunkett (Dartmouth, Philosophy)
Chair: Ray Briggs (Stanford, Philosophy)

Saturday December 15

10:30-12: S.M. Love (Georgia State, Philosophy)
with comments from Scott Hershovitz (Michigan, Law / Philosophy)
Chair: Dave Gottlieb (Stanford, Philosophy)

2-3:30: Anna Stilz (Princeton, Politics)
with comments from Hasan Dindjer (Oxford, Law)
Chair: Adam Simon (Stanford, Philosophy)

4-5:30: Scott Shapiro (Yale, Law / Philosophy)
with comments from Manuel Vargas (UC San Diego, Philosophy)
Chair: Alison McQueen (Stanford, Political Science)

Organized by David Plunkett
(Dartmouth Philosophy / Stanford Humanities Fellow 18-19)

Register for workshop (by end of Dec 5): <https://goo.gl/forms/H6tWqXO9pGcvVzH02>

The workshop will take place at the Stanford Humanities Center. Co-sponsored by Stanford Ethics in Society, Stanford Humanities Center, Stanford Philosophy Department, and Stanford Law School.